

Library Vision and Mission

Vision

The Eaton Public library will be recognized as a resource center for print, media, and electronic materials as well as a technology center where equipment, support and information sources are provided.

Mission

The mission of the Eaton Public Library is to provide professional library services and resources to meet the evolving educational, recreational, and informational needs of the public in an historical setting.

Affiliation with Other Libraries

The Eaton Public Library is a Member of the High Plains Library District, which includes:

District Branch Libraries:

Farr Regional, Centennial Park, Lincoln Park, Erie, Carbon Valley Regional, Riverside Branch and Outreach/Bookmobile

Member Libraries:

Eaton Public Library, Northern Plains Public Library (Ault), Platteville Public Library, Fort Lupton Public and School Library, Hudson Public Library, Glenn A. Jones Memorial Library (Johnstown), and Keenesburg Public Library

Resource sharing is an important component in this affiliation. Materials are shared among District libraries via a courier service. The Eaton Library actively participates in the resource sharing of all types of materials in order to obtain resources of interest to local patrons and share resources with other residents of the District. Items are checked out to patrons based upon lending policies of the owning library. Fees for damaged or lost materials are assessed by the owning library per its policies. However, overdue fines are assessed based upon the item's checkout location.
